7:00 RELIEF SOCIETY PRESIDENCY WELCOME

7:05 MINICLASSES Choose one of the following:

Learning to Delight in the Scriptures — Nephi of old was both a learner and writer of gospel truths: “I, Nephi, ... was taught somewhat in all the learning of my father; and ... had a great knowledge of the goodness and the mysteries of God. ... Yea, I make a record ... with mine own hand; and I make it according to my knowledge.” Because Nephi was well educated, he could read from sacred records and pass on to us the account of God’s dealings with his people. Like Nephi, we, too, need to develop our own literacy—our ability to read and write—so we can have personal access to the scriptures. Unfortunately, not every Church member fully uses the vital skills of reading and writing. For this reason the Relief Society general presidency has set a goal to have Relief Society sisters throughout the world encourage literacy among members of the Church. Come join this discussion of how we can develop our skills to study the scriptures more faithfully and gain greater gospel literacy. (Allie Thornbrue)

Helping Your Child Begin School Ready to Learn — Every child deserves to begin school ready to learn. The question is how parents and other family members can help! Join first-grade teacher Megan Blatter in discussing: characteristics of young children and their developmental milestones; things that you can do at home to contribute to your child’s school success; activities that you can use to help your child acquire the skills to succeed in school; and answers to often-asked questions about how to work with teachers and schools. (Megan Blatter)

7:45 MINICLASSES Choose one of the following:

Children’s Literature — Surely one of the sweetest joys of motherhood is taking our little ones on our laps and sharing good books and stories together. As we read out loud to our small children, we not only teach them about sound and language and the world around them, but we nurture bonds and sweet associations that will last eternally. This miniclass will focus on why and how to read aloud to babies and toddlers, and include recommendations for great books to read aloud. (Erin McPhie)

What’s Your Journal? — What’s your journal? Keeping a journal may not be what you think. Come and discover journal writing in the multimedia age. There’s a way to make keeping a journal fun for you! (Wendy Bouton)

8:20 MINICLASSES Choose one of the following:

Using Photography to Tell Your Family Stories — Learn great tips on taking, preserving, and displaying you’re your photographs. And be inspired with pointers on (and examples of) how you can use pictures in putting together your family history! (Kerstin Bean)

Music in Your Child’s Life — Every child should experience the joy, fun, and learning which music brings to life. Certified Kindermusik instructor Tracy Phillips will lead this fast-paced, hands-on miniclass packed with practical ideas on how you can add music to your child’s life. Starting with the premises that every parent is the child’s most important teacher, that every child is musical, and that the home is the most important learning environment, Tracy will teach us how music can nurture a child’s cognitive, emotional, social, language, and physical development. (Tracy Phillips)
